The World Of Materialism Will Collapse, Leaving Only Me, Jesus Christ Your Savior!

“I have much to say, My son. Why won’t My people obey? Because they love materialism. Look around you, My son— all is dedicated to greed— stores devoted to more, My son. The best and the brightest, the most expensive— all that the world can offer, My son. These plazas of sin, gross materialism, My son, will all one day be gone. My wrath will accomplish it. The gross materialism will be replaced by poverty and lack— the economy will collapse, and this nation of plenty will be forever gone! How will you survive, My son? Trust in Me. I Am your sustenance, your provision in the hard times coming. Be sure that I Am your Savior, both in this time and forever. I can be relied on, My son. Trust Me with your life both on this planet and in My Heavenly Kingdom. Your LORD has spoken. Amen, My son, forever!”
